

George J. Bolos is employed by the Department of Economic Development with nearly 40 years of Private and Municipal experience. He is a graduate James Madison University with a Bachelor of Business Administration. During his time in Harrisonburg, he earned the American Enterprise Scholarship in Entrepreneurial Leadership, JMU's College of Business Zane Showker Scholarship and the Fannie May Candies Gold Medal Medallion for Excellence in Marketing.

Mr. Bolos later served as a Technical Sales Representative for 3M where earned two President's Gold Awards, National Sales Representative for the Flint Ink Corporation and BFGoodrich Performance Chemicals and then VP of East Coast Operations for SPECTRA Color Corporation. For over a decade, he served his community in SE Pennsylvania as the Director of Economic Development and as an Elected Borough Councilmen for the Borough of Morrisville, PA.

Mr. Bolos moved from Philadelphia to Richmond in 2008 working for the city's Department of Economic and Community Development where he remains today. Mr. Bolos serves as the Business Services Manager for the Commonwealth's Enterprise Zone and Commercial Area Revitalization Effort or CARE Incentive Program Supervisor. In 2023, the City of Richmond's CARE Program earned Top Honors (Gold Medal) from the International Economic Development Council (IEDC).